

Arrearage Management Plan

Our family struggled with bills during the pandemic. Maybe yours did, too.

We were more than ninety days past due on our PG&E bill.

Then we found out about a debt forgiveness plan that could eliminate up to eight thousand dollars from our past bills.

Once we were enrolled, we started making our next 12 bill payments in full and on-time.

We also applied for help from other assistance programs.

And I even signed up for a payment reminder.

This plan really worked for us.
